Top Tips to Prepare for Your Next Interview

Investigate the Job

- An important part of interview preparation is to take the time to investigate the job posting.
- As you review the job description, consider what the company is seeking in a candidate.
- Make a list of the skills, knowledge, and professional and personal qualities that are required by the employer and critical for success in the job.

Research the Company

- Before you attend a job interview, it's important to find out as much as you can about not only the job but also the company.
- It will help you prepare to answer interview questions about the company and to ask the interviewer questions about the company.
- You will also be able to find out whether the company and its culture are a good fit for you.

Have you ever investigated a job position and company before your interview?
